Our Work

Leadership Pioneer Valley connects, develops, and supports emerging leaders from all sectors and communities of the Pioneer Valley to strengthen our region. By engaging and empowering the next generation of regional leaders, we’re working to build a more inclusive, vibrant, and economically prosperous future.

Our participants spend nine months—from September through May—exploring applied leadership capacities and diverse communities throughout the Valley. Together they investigate the role of 21st century leadership priorities, honing their skills in communication, critical thinking, creativity, and collaboration. They also learn about the ideas, organizations, and people shaping our region today and are directly connected to leaders in government, business, academia, and community organizations.

LPV actively fosters ongoing connections through our alumni engagement, mentorship program, and continuing education opportunities. Enrollment in the LEAP class of 2020 will begin in the spring of 2019.

Leaping Across Boundaries

“Life is like the monkey bars: you have to let go to move forward. Once you make the decision to leap, be sure to loosen your grasp on old concepts so you can swing your way to new ones.”

—Leah Busque

We are excited to announce the name “LEAP” for our core program. Our board identified the glaring need for an actual name for our “core program.” LEAP is not an acronym, but each letter can represent different takeaways. We invite this class and our alumni to decide what the letters mean for them—in this way it propels us forward but is linked to our past.

Taking a leap is different than running; it is leaving the ground with both feet. That is risky and so is leadership. LEAP ’19 took a leap of faith when they joined LPV. It is the support of supervisors, friends, and family that helps make those risky moves possible. We know from watching nearly 250 other leapers who have gone before that this class will all land in a different place than where they started. We also know that this is not their first or last leap. Our alumni have leaped into public office, new businesses, new roles, and new volunteer opportunities. The Class of 2019 is the first LEAP class but not the first class to leap.

We invite LEAP ’19 to loosen their grasp on old concepts and leap across boundaries to new ways of connecting and leading.
